Avenue des Arts Gallery is pleased to announce the upcoming group exhibition DIMENSION, featuring Sculptor Laurence BONNEL and Photographer Paul MILBURN.

“Dimension” can be both physical and mental.

It standardizes the position of a physical object in space or time but dimension is as well related to your own perception.

Through photography and sculpture, these 2 artists play with the imperceptible reality of the dimension, either created by the movement or generated by a personal perception of the vector space.

About the Artists

Laurence BONNEL

Laurence studied art & literature and turned into sculpture in 1998 when she learned many different technical approaches from several Masters: Modeling, carving, soldering, foundry, and patina.

Human body takes an important place in Laurence's art, reflecting the complexity of human being's relationships and interactions. By duplicating lines and shapes, Laurence creates motion in sculpture and explores the unpredictable transition from a physical and emotional state to another. Laurence's always focusing on the quintessence of the movement and experimenting new technical methods. Shape embodies every simple gesture.
