MIDNIGHT PHOTO SERIES

Reine Paradis constructs narrative photographs staging herself as the central figure in a surreal landscape. Paradis is dressed in bright colored costumes in her images and is shown interacting in colorful landscapes. Shot in many locations throughout America, her photo series takes us on an introspective journey across a symbolic and chromatic world, projected above the limit of reality and imagination.

All the scenes are imagined and conceptualized before shooting in real locations. Once the scene is visualized in its entirety, Paradis makes sketches and paints the scene to use as a blueprint when photographing the final scene. All the costumes, accessories and sculptures are designed and prepared according to the initial vision of the scene. All the objects are meticulously designed and placed within the scene, along with Paradis herself as the central figure. Each scene is an adventure and a story in and of itself.

GOLDEN PINEAPPLE

Paradis will unveil her striking installing «Golden Pineapple.” This new work takes us on our first, life-sized journey into the world Paradis has created; a place where objects are alive and color is sacred. With exotic clarity, Paradis shapes our reality and projects it through her unmistakable landscape, submerging the viewer in a boundless and sensory experience.

QUEEN OF PARADIS

In conjunction with this new body of work, «Queen of Paradis» is a feature-length documentary about the artist. After the international success of her first photo series “Jungle,” filmmaker Carl Lindstrom follows her on a surreal journey across the United States as she works to complete her second series “Midnight.”

ABOUT THE ARTIST

Born in 1989, Reine Paradis is among the primitives of the future of art. She flew off to Los Angeles in 2012. There, distant from the weight of history that at times asphyxiates European Art, she found her own phrasing. The artist feels free under California skies. Her photos open a new avenue in contemporary creation, and offer a spectacular, exhilarating headway in their purpose and in the art of today: the artist sows some confusion and a joy most welcome in the present leaden world.
